

MAGNETA

AND COMMERCIAL REVIEW.
Established, July, 1836.

MAN HUNT, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

FOR DECEMBER, 1850, completed the twenty-second number of the Commercial Review, and announced its discontinuance. It was commenced in July, 1836, and each number contains more than seven hundred large columns. A full complete list of the Magazine may be had by the publisher's office, 142 Fulton street, New York, and substantially bound, for two dollars and upwards.

Following are a few of the many commendations published by the editor of the Merchants' Magazine in relation to the Review:

Letter from the Hon. Horatio Clay to the Editor of the Review.

ASHLAND, 30th July, 1849.

I wish to express to you my gratification in receiving the July number of the Merchants' and Commercial Review, and to thank you for the beginning, and from reading your Magazine ends at the end of it. When we feel under obligations to those who have contributed to our information, we are naturally desirous to express our knowledge of them, of their appearance, of the fair consideration, and of the character and handling of the criticisms we can acquire. They have pleased our readers (at least you have not). If I may say for them under those obligations; and I am sure you will be able to do so. I am sure it satisfies the desire to which I have alluded.

It became quite familiar with the Magazine and I had been a reader in it for some time. It is so much in it is eminently entitled to the public regard.

I collect and arrange, in good order, a large volume of statistics, and I am sure that it will not only to the merchant, but to the agriculturist, the cultivator of the earth, to the manufacturer, merchant, in short, to all classes of the business and community.

Using this opinion, I am glad that it has been, and I may continue to be, liberally patronized.

Every individual concerned in it, and I will return your friend and obedient servant.

H. CLAY.

ack of a letter from Hon. Millard Fillmore, in which I (Merchants' Magazine) with a good deal of interest, and have been reading it. It is one of the most valuable periodicals that I have seen. To the merchant it seems quite indispensable. It contains a great deal of information.

facts and information, which can be found nowhere else so well digested and so accessible as in these numbers. I regret that I do not own the whole work."

man Hunt.—Sir: I owe you many thanks for notices I have had to read the Merchants' Magazine in its pages, and I am glad to see that it is enriched, of all the useful and interesting and, I amply, and presented with a fullness and which delights while it instructs. It is, in fact, the best and most valuable of all the papers of the merchants who go between nations, and it has brought many departments of knowledge, and of the world into the language in the hands of the great merchant only, but the one of mere
 it, nevertheless, of most useful operations.—
 of the interior also—who will find this magazine with the information of all the world, and the elevation of the mercantile character reis its utility at all confined to merchants, but
 and the diplomat, and the statesman, and the with managing the affairs of the nation. You have found it most useful to me in my senator-and have been in the habit for many years of carrying it, and I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
 THOMAS H. BENTON.
 Letter from Hon. Wm. H. Seward.
 Sir: Have the goodness to place my name on the subscribers for the Merchants' Magazine. I an invaluable work for the use of all who understand not merely commercial operations in the country, but the general principles of commercial and political economy, and the material
 involved in the administration of the government.
 With great respect, your humble servant,
 Wm. H. SEWARD.
 Merchants' Magazine is published monthly, at 142
 Street, New York, by FREEMAN HUNT, and fur-subscribers for Five Dollars a year, in advance.
 SPRING IMPORTATION.
 S. PHIPPS & Co. 64 and 66 Broadway, New York, and 10 Milk street, Boston, are now receiving the most complete assortment of British, French, and German and Fancy Dry Goods, which they offer on as low terms as possible.
 We will receive the newest style of Dress Goods by the season. A large assortment of Trimming Goods

MORE PIANO FORTE MANUFACTORY.
ELASTIC* UNIVERSAL TOUCH

[illegible]

omnibuses runs from the steamboat landings to the springs every ten minutes. ~~Yachting~~ se and grounds are near the extensive and green-houses and nurseries of the Messrs. Hodge, and the scenery in all directions is unsurpassed. At either variety of view, the eye is enabled to see, from what may be taken in at a glance, a view of Lake Erie, the Niagara flowing, northwards the Falls, the extensive forests, and the scenery of the Lake, the moving panorama of a busy and of ceaseless enterprise.

Here, taken immediately from the celebrated Hotel, the panorama, as it were, extends to the very heart of the United States. The House, erected at about seven thousand dollars, has been a most and elegant style, at considerable expense, and is sufficiently capacious to accommodate patients.

It is, with the establishment, and constituting one of the features of the station, and affording healthful gymnastic exercises.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

J. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of a Central Medical College, and Geo. W. Davis, early of Danville, N. Y., the resident physician.

And the friends of the establishment due it felicitation that the services of Miss Mary M. of high medical attainments, who has at- tained eminence in the profession, have been secured, and that female patients can at all themselves of her invaluable aid and coun- sel.

The department is under the control of a gen- erally qualified for that position; and unwa- veringly will be taken to have every thing in the establishment arranged on a plan, and conducted ensure the comfort, and promote the health of all who may wish to avail themselves of its benefits.

Baths of all descriptions, adapted to the cure

ated public sentiment has everywhere repu-

kills use of drugs in the treatment of disease; restores suffering and broken constitutions to health; reforms a depraved and dissipated people; demands a return to the simple life from a wide departure from the simplicity of Nature's laws; allies by a rational love of happiness and the exigencies of our condition. Hydropathy, or a use of water as a restorative and curative agent, is a substitution of a simple and unobscured efficacy for the complicated and unobscured efficacy of drugs, and cauterizing, which, in obtaining the cure of disease, too frequently places the patient beneath of further annoyance. The efficacy of the Water Cure establishes the efficacy of the Water Cure, and the efficacy of the Water Cure, to say no other, but fully confirms the efficacy of the Water Cure and promulgators of the great truth, that the system is founded, and renders verbal notions unnecessary. It is deemed sufficient to any of the well-considered establishments of character, and will be found equal to the best,

the order, convenience, and desirableness of its

TERMS.
 Medical advice, attendance and nursing, &c., $14 per week, payable weekly, varying according and attention required. Each patient required to furnish 12 linen sheets, two cotton blankets, one woollen blanket, and four towels, or, not convenient for the patient to furnish them, they may be supplied at the establishment by cents a week.
 Communications for medical advice should be addressed to S. M. Davis, M. D., or to George W. Davis, Cashier, Buffalo, N. Y.
S. M. & G. W. DAVIS & Co., Buffalo.